

SURFACE ENERGY OF A SEMICONFINED METAL
IN THE JELLIUM MODEL

P. P. Kostrobii, B. M. Markovych

National University "Lvivska Politehnika"
(12, Bandera Str., 1, Lviv 79013, Ukraine)

S u m m a r y

The surface energy of a semiconfined metal is calculated, where the ion subsystem is modelled as homogeneous positive background confined by a plane surface. In this model, the surface energy is proved to be a positive value in the whole region of electron concentrations.